PORT NEWS FEBRUARY 2021

PORT OF GRAPEVIEW

IT'S OPEN!!!

At long last the boat turnaround is complete!

Before we go on, we wish to give a shout out to former Fair Harbor Marina owners - Vern and Susan Nelson, as well as the present owners Kelly and Cindy Granger - for the use of their private driveway for a turnaround for way too many years. The new turnaround is exclusively the Port of Grapeview's as is Griswold Avenue (the launch road). The turnaround was financed by two Washington State Recreation and Conservation Office grants as well as Port Development District funds. We are forever grateful for their generosity. Note the two boat and trailer areas to the right.

As with all things public, signage is required.

To the left of the restroom is the handicap parking spot and a time-limited stall.

The area on the right has seven SHORT TERM parking areas. There is a two hour limit and there is no overnight parking.

Load and unload your kayak or family and friends then park in the parking lot across the Loop Road.

The crosshatched walkway above left is Americans With Disabilities Act required. Therefore, there is no parking along this section of Griswold Avenue or anywhere on the hatched area.

There are three parking slots along the lower rock wall. The Port owns this property. The Fair Harbor Marina is private property and not the Port's.

The rock wall slots are for loading and unloading only with a one hour time limit.

After almost 100 years of existence, the Port of Grapeview has presented the hamlet of Grapeview a first class boating facility. Like all new things, we are open to suggestions. Write us at portofgrapeview@gmail.com.

And don't forget to check out our website at www.portofgrapeview.com Especially the boat and kayak launch page. Annual Passes are available at the kiosk.
